

<http://www.theimommy.com/2013/08/10/meet-dooples-lynn-hunter-book-review/>

Meet The Dooples by Lynn Hunter Book Review

10 AUGUST, 2013

The Dooples were created by Dr. Lynn Hunter to combine education with entertainment and aid learning with rhyme, rhythm and repetition. She believes that it's important to maintain ongoing learning throughout the year and that children become more engaged with story-based education. Dr. Hunter recently premiered "The Dooples in the Land of Doo" animated film and introduced new characters such as a "marker" named Marcus, a "pen" named Penny, a "crayon" named Spectrina, and the wisest Doople in the Land of Doo, Mr. Doo Ba Dee Doo, who all learn by "Doo-ing."

My Thoughts

I have two kids just entering school age (four and five) and they are both into creating, coloring, painting etc. so I knew they would love to Meet the Dooples!

The Dooples are a set of writing implements including a pencil, crayon, chalk and marker that are magically brought to life and create art all on their own. My kids liked their creative names and especially thought Mr. Dooba Dee Doo had a great name. It added to his magical touch.

The writing is whimsical and rhymes which my kids really enjoy. It helps them to memorize the story and after just a couple of times through, they were repeating some of the lines. Mark Gandy did a great job with the illustrations as the bold colors and adorable characters come to life on the pages. I liked how he used their expressions to really illustrate the point being made on the page.

As a parent I appreciate anything with educational value and this book is perfect for my school aged kids. They love to draw and color so it was fun for them to read such a unique book.

Meet the Dooples is a great addition to my kids library of educational tools!