Meet The Dooples by Dr. Lynn Hunter is about a group of writing implementations who come to life in a collection of books and a musical animation that motivate children to think, learn and communicate.

The Dooples were created to help facilitate elementary-school aged kids everywhere with learning new concepts, using "everyday tools" they are very familiar with.

We were given the privilege of reviewing this book and found it to be very fun. My little love was SO EXCITED to read a new book. I LOVE the colorful pictures and the "comic book" type look.

The story line is about a how these writing implements come to life to learn, write, and draw in the night. After reading the book my little love asked if she could look at the book herself. She was deciding which characters were her favorite 😊

If you are interested in purchasing this book for your kiddos head over to Amazon. You can also meet The Dooples on YouTube. I am so glad we have this book in our collection, it's a book that both of us really liked and will continue to read for years to come.
